

THE GREEN DRAGON OF GREED

Argyros

Beware of the dragon all dressed in green
He is big and he tempts you to a heart full of greed
He'll sell you his lie that more stuff gives you life
But to covet more things just brings death, grief, and strife
True happiness comes from a generous heart
The troubadour from Assisi is a good place to start
He gave up his wealth, just gave it away
Then started an order that still thrives today
The Breastplate of Righteousness guards hearts on this earth
To seek treasure in heaven, a far greater worth
